User Tip: Recording Inventory Shrinkage

Here is a great question that was recently asked to us. After taking a physical inventory, what is the best way to record inventory discrepancies? There are three ways we recommend (in order of preference):

1. Maintenance/Store Inventory/Receive Inventory w/o Order - enter a "negative" quantity received
2. Set up an employee (or client) - name it first name Inventory last name Adjustments. Next go to Employee Store Purchases (or Walk-Up, if client) and enter a "purchase" for the adjustment amount under the new person you created
3. Maintenance/Store Inventory/Store Inventory - manually adjust the beginning inventory number

Announcing: Lodge-ical Version 8.0

We are converting Lodge-ical version 7.0 to be compatible with Microsoft Access 2010. We are working to have this complete in the first quarter 2012. The "look and feel" of Lodge-ical will generally remain the same. Some of the new features include

- the ability to attach an unlimited number documents and/or photos to a client profile
- a new and improved "Find-A-Client" allowing you to query your database to ask for only "one time guests" or "repeat guests"

Stay tuned for more information in future newsletters.
